

... aged 68, and Loveday Watkin, who died September 17th, 1857, aged 78, A.D. 1859.'

Cornish windows of the 1850s are rare, and this is a valuable survival of a period when stained glass, heavily under the influence of Pugin, used medieval windows as their main inspiration.